Harry Recognizes Marauder as Enemy Who Might Have Tried to Kill Him

WOULD Harry Underwood recognize the midnight marauder when the improvised bandage Lillian had put over the man's eyes was removed, as well as his voluminous cloak?

This was the question which was haunting me as I knew in even greater degree it was obsessing Lillian. But it did not make me oblivious to the need for simple surgical preparations, as well as to the advisability of getting Katie out of the room before any possible dramatic revelation of the man's identity, as well as his purpose in coming upon the balcony with a poised knife in his hand.

Sends Katie Away

With a confused remembrance of the old adage concerning killing two birds with one stone, I spoke in low, imperative tones to Katie.

"Hurry downstairs and put pots of water to heat on every burner of the gas stove. Then come back upstairs, go to the closet and bring the emergency first aid supplies. But be sure to knock when you come back."

My melodrama-loving housekeeper sniffed and threw up her head in justified resentment.

"We, I vork by you long time, years und years, und I nefer, nefer forget to knock on door," she retorted. But she did not permit her dolor to interfere with her efficient carrying out of my orders. She was out of the door as she finished the sentence and I heard her fairly running toward the rear stairway.

I locked the door behind her, and Dicky said crisply:

"Good work, old dear! We'll need those things, pronto, and we sure can do without Katie at this little unmasking scene."

"Take off that cloak, and the bandages from his eyes," Lillian said tensely, and Dicky obediently began to untie the rough bandage which covered not only the man's eyes but the most of his face.

I saw Harry Underwood stiffen ever so slightly, as if he were awaiting a long-expected blow, and then Dicky's fingers swept away the concealing bandage, and a swarthy face, framing venomous black eyes, looking out at us.

"I thought so," Harry Underwood said as if to himself, as the eyes found his face. The man lurched to the side of the couch in a mighty effort to free himself while his eyes fairly blazed their murderous hatred at Lillian's big husband, and gurgling sounds came from his throat.

Recognizes Him

"Do you recognize him, Harry?" Lillian asked faintly, and I knew that now her weakness was not feigned. Her question was already answered by her husband's face and that of the man confronting him, but she wanted it made concrete.

His eyes left the man's face and leaped to hers.

"Yes, darling," he said with the directness which is now as much a part of him as evasion and trickery were his in his old unregenerate days. "And a good thing for me it is that he is bound. I fancy you saved my life tonight."

"I know she did," I struck in. "He had a knife all poised to throw over the balcony at someone below when she set the revolver against his body."

Even in that moment of stress, Lillian's generous heart would not permit her to withhold credit from others.

"If Madge had not spied him, and helped me, and if Katie had not garroted him just as he lunged at me, he would have gotten you and us as well," she said.

"But you did get him," her husband said adoringly, and then Dicky struck in.

"How about it, old man?" he addressed his friend. "Shall we take the gag out, and let this bird talk, first removing the ladies? We may get something out of him."

Wants to Stay

"You'll not remove me," Lillian said spiritedly, "and Madge shall stay, too, if she wishes. If we had obeyed your asinine instructions to keep out of this mess, and stayed beyond locked doors, we would not have been on the balcony, and Madge wouldn't have lamped this bird. You know as well as I what would have happened. He'd have killed Harry with that knife of his, and been safely away before anybody had realized what had happened."

"You're right," her husband said. "This bird is accounted to be the best knife thrower in his neck of the woods across the seas, and that about means in the world. It would have been curtains for me if you hadn't decided to sit in the game. Take out that gag, Dicky—that is, if he promises to keep his voice and his language under control. Or, wait! Let me talk to him."

THE "MISUNDERSTOOD" SEX

"The Man Who Understood Women" was the title of a popular little book about a man who didn't, if memory serves me.

Here and there, you may meet a man who understands how to attract women, how to charm them and even how to make a woman happy. But no man really understands women! And here are some of the things that keep men guessing:

Why a woman doesn't seem to be able to strike a happy medium between over-dressing in town and under-dressing at the beach?

Why she is always sweetest and most amiable when she is planning to blow him up the moment they get away from the party?

Why, the more intelligent and efficient she is, the less she relishes being admired for her brains and her mental achievements?

Why she thinks she has a 99-year lease on a man's affections, just because he offered her a few weeks option?

Why she thinks more of the man who feeds her two cents worth of baloney than of the one who dines her on terrapin, but forgets the applesauce?

Why she can't realize that a summer love-affair is like a rubber bathing suit or a straw hat—good for one season only?

Why she harps on the "good pal" racket, and then gets sore or hurt if he drops the gallantry and tries to be really platonic?

Why it gives her a thrill to see the heroine being bullied or bossed by the he-man lover in the movies, when she would flatten any man out if he tried "that stuff" on her?

Why she never seems to know when love is done—and always insists on trying to add a postscript or stage an encore?

Why she gets a kick out of leaving dabs of lipstick all over a man's collar—as though it were her trade mark?

Why she thinks of herself as tender-hearted and a good sport, yet will cheerfully use the orchids which one man has sent her as bait with which to catch another?

And why the poet should have credited her with "infa[illegible] when all women react [illegible] the same way under [illegible] given circumstances?"

With Prussian exactness the order specifies even the barracks in which the recipient is to report what he is to bring with him in the way of clothing what he is to do in case he meanwhile changes his residence etc

The order is a blue sheet of paper eight by five inches Written crosswise on the face of it are the words this order serves in lieu of a ticket on the railways to the point where the addressee must report

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Glasses

[illegible] wear glasses. How foolish [illegible] is a great factor in our life.

We have come to associate glasses with old age. Nothing could be more absurd than such a conviction. As a matter of fact there are a dozen persons under 20 to one past 40 requiring the constant use of glasses for distant vision. It may be a mark of age for one to need glasses to find the number in a telephone book. But it is not a mark of age for one to need glasses for distant vision.

When I observe the outlandish hats and shoes that the human family wears because it is the style I can not understand why anybody should object to the wearing of a properly adjusted noseglass or pair of spectacles. But I do gaze upon the photographs of famous men and look at the persons I meet every day and wonder where they ever got such ridiculous looking glasses as they wear.

But it isn't necessary to have glasses of this type. The modern opticians and manufacturers of optical goods are all the time devising frames and lenses that actually add to the look of distinction and the real beauty of those who wear them. I have seen a face that would be materially improved in appearance and attractiveness if suitable glasses were provided.

It is absurd indeed for one to reject the benefits of modern science just because of a silly dread of wearing glasses. I am out of patience with this feeling.

I have gone out of my way to say these things because I know that the foolishness of pride has deprived many and many a person particularly members of the fair sex from the benefits and indeed the necessities of correcting lenses. Many a human being is suffering discomfort if not agony because of uncorrected eye strain.

It is not alone the immediate discomfort either that is important.

Constant strain of the eyes will bring serious eye trouble and even bad general health.

I am told by friends of attacks of dizziness they suffer of indigestion and inability to work steadily. To these I always suggest the possibility of eye strain and the need of glasses.

It is not alone poor sight that indicates eye strain. One may see well enough but have good vision at the expense of the muscles and nerves of these delicate organs.

Be sensible about it and have the eyes tested.

There was nothing brusque or bullying in his methods his manner was civil and his voice well modulated There was about him [illegible] the appearance of an army man on leave That appearance did not altogether belie him Before joining the police he had for three years held a short service commission in the R A F He seemed to know exactly what to do

The study was examined photographs were taken and the doctor made his examination of the body Then Inspector Kennedy began to ask questions

To begin with he obtained Law[illegible]son's [illegible] on the face of [illegible] appeared to be quite simple and straightforward Lawson said that Elsa had been missed from the Albert Hall when the [illegible] were due to be [illegible] he had made inquiries for her [illegible] that she had just been seen being [illegible] toward the door by a party of [illegible] monks [illegible] had [illegible] Mr Little and [illegible] Mr Little had [illegible] ter on of [illegible]

He had then driven Mr Little [illegible] home in [illegible] had [illegible] been [illegible] when [illegible] sudden [illegible] and a man dressed [illegible] time had [illegible] and attacked him

Taken by [illegible] he had been knocked out before he had time to defend himself [illegible] consequence [illegible] over him [illegible] and Elsa had [illegible] and he had seen Mr Little [illegible] lying on the floor [illegible] with a knife [illegible] That was [illegible] he knew

The Inspector [illegible] down [illegible] The Inspector [illegible]

I'd like to have your [illegible] Miss Little he [illegible]

Elsa was [illegible] The shock of her uncle's death on top of the effects of the drug which had been given to her at the Albert Hall had left her [illegible] and hardly able to concentrate The contrast between her gay Queen of Hearts costume and her pale face and red eyes made her look extremely helpless and pathetic Inspector Kennedy felt very sorry for her But he had his duty to do

I'm afraid I can't tell you much she answered A lot of monks started dancing round me at the Albert Hall One of them picked me up and then something pricked my arm and I lost consciousness When I came to I was lying on a sofa in [illegible] and a man dressed as a monk was standing by the window Then the door bell rang and I turned my head and [illegible] and saw Uncle Vincent

She blinked A tear trickled down her nose and dropped down on to the front of her dress Crying did not make her look ugly it only made her look helpless and childlike Inspector Kennedy felt very sorry for her indeed

And then Miss Little?" he asked sympathetically

I—I think I was going to scream but the monk caught hold of my wrists and shook me and said You are not to [illegible] or some[illegible]thing like this I said [illegible] [illegible] and he said [illegible] I haven't Then he picked up the [illegible] of [illegible] the [illegible] saw Mr Lawson [illegible] the [illegible] on the pavement

[illegible] this monk was asked the Inspector

[illegible] he [illegible] shook her head [illegible]

TUESDAY SEPTEMBER [illegible]

Too Hopeful

[illegible] arguments [illegible] the horrors of war in a civilization [illegible] that fighting no longer [illegible] of soldiers

But it is hard to [illegible] the impression it will [illegible] European leaders will be deep enough to turn them from the [illegible] they are following As individuals they may be earnestly opposed to [illegible] they may be convinced fully of the futility of war As politicians they may be aware of the risk entailed in putting weapons into the hands of the masses The [illegible] still remains however the likelihood that they will lead their countries into another war sooner or later

More to the point there still exists the probability that circumstances will cause them to become embroiled in war as the culmination of a course of action always pointed in the direction of militarism Adolf Hitler may not have looked forward to a major war when he began to reorganize Germany in the pattern of militaristic nationalism When and if war comes however he will be obliged to recognize that he placed himself and the German people in its clutch by surrendering to the tradition of militarism If the day ever arrives when leaders possess the courage and intelligence to exclude militarism as an easy avenue of appeal then and then only may the world expect to live in peace

Truth

It is worth noticing how often the word Truth occurs in the speeches and articles prepared in honor of Harvard university's tercentenary celebration

The highest service any university any group of scholars or any group of men can perform is to contribute to humanity's progress toward discovery and acceptance of truth

In the year of a presidential campaign like the one now being waged the emphasis placed on truth by the Harvard exercises is a reminder to thoughtful men and women that in no field is truth more difficult to find and at the same time more essential to the general welfare than in the field of politics

In political discussion there is a particularly strong temptation to believe what it is pleasant to believe Politicians take advantage of this circumstance to distort truth and themselves are tempted to think that what they want to believe is truth

Therefore it is plain that the progress of people living in a political environment which permits them to determine their own affairs depends wholly on their ability to find the truth and to vote accordingly That becomes an almost impossible exercise of judgment when each and every voter is surrounded by spokesmen for differing factions each one claiming it is the sole guardian of ultimate truth

This common responsibility for knowing the truth is the weakness of representative government Yet because the alternative to such a method is to entrust detection of truth to dictators it really cannot be called a weakness Rather it is a challenge

Where Authority Lies

It is a good sign of returning normalcy when it is begun to be maintained that the seat of authority in a republic is the legislature This is happening in the United States

It is becoming plain [illegible] that while a President has great influence he has no authority than that which congress gives him It is increasingly evident also that the next congress will be more jealous of its constitutional power than either of its predecessors

While it remains improbable that the present huge Democratic majority in the house of representatives will be replaced by a Republican majority though such a change is possible it is certain there will be no continuation of the compliant new deal majority which rubber stamped the Roosevelt administration into a position of unprecedented power The steam roller days of a bone crushing legislative bloc are over

Even the senate which is bound to remain Democratic is expected to raise a strong anti new deal coalition composed of Republicans and dissident Democrats Thus even if reelected President Roosevelt would find himself obliged [illegible]

Six More Weeks

[illegible] how the government shall [illegible] in this campaign and a very [illegible] But now in addition we are faced by a far greater issue This is what power the government shall have and what power it shall not have

In Gov Landon's speeches there rarely occurs the personal pronoun I He is the representative of a great group which believes as he does concerning the powers it is proper for the government to have In marked contrast to President Roosevelt he is qualified to speak for a party because what he has to say is what every member of his party believes Whatever Gov Landon's success at the polls may be he has made a place for himself as a student of national affairs as the spokesman for a school of thought and as a political leader in a tense period of American history

A Break for Parents

An interesting discussion of home work for school children appearing in the Ohio Health News published by the state department of health seems to point the way to a break for parents There are after all two victims of home work the child who doesn't take to it kindly and the parent who is expected to cooperate with the school system in maintaining home work standards

It is a standing joke but not a very funny one that parents toil harder over some home work assignments than the intended beneficiary If there were less assignments it might be presumed that parents would be relieved of a chore To what end?

The method of education already puts the official stamp of educational authority solely on the teacher Home work where assistance is given by a parent possibly has salvaged some prestige for the parent's standing with the child in spite of the often disastrous consequence of asking father to work algebra problems he has forgotten or to define parts of speech he never knew

There is perhaps a better way to salvage that highly valued prestige than to force parents to submit to an examination of things they have forgotten There must be a method which would be more acceptable to school children too Still if and when educators ever discover a way to do the whole job of educating the child during school hours it may appear too late that they helped to deprive parents of the remnants of the respect due to any adult who remembers his theorems sentence structures and the natural products of Bolivia

Matters of Opinion

If Germany had Siberia Adolf Hitler suggests its troubles would be over In view of the fact that the way to Siberia by land lies across Russia and of the likelihood that Germany couldn't get to Siberia by water without Japan's help or at least its consent it seems more likely that Germany's troubles would just be started

Refusal of football players in a small Pennsylvania college to report for practice because it took too much time from their jobs is a reminder that for every star who makes a good thing of the game there are hundreds of ordinary players who get nothing out of it but fun and bruises

The state department is reported to be acutely apprehensive about the war situation in Europe If reports of a more than billion dollar defense fund in the next budget be true the department can begin to worry about the war situation at home

Japanese militarists are cool to spending money on the Olympic games at Tokyo in 1940 They could borrow Germany's idea and invent new forms of compulsory [illegible] destruction [illegible]

To the ordinary observer motorcycles seem to have few if any advantages over automobiles The advantage of the motorcycle [illegible] however [illegible] an edge on [illegible] dignified [illegible] of the road He can fasten a [illegible] to each handle bar [illegible] a stew than [illegible] tied to a radio or ornament [illegible] can make It all depends on what you think of tails on motor vehicles [illegible] place

Situation Changed in Massachusetts

Anti Curley and Anti Roosevelt Trend Expected To Result in Big G O P Plurality

Today's dispatch completes the summary of the New England states by describing the situation in Massachusetts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1936 by The Marion Star)

[illegible]

[illegible] which [illegible] 150 000 [illegible] votes

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr a grandson of the Republican senator of a generation ago won the Republican nomination for the [illegible] in a primary in which he had relatively little opposition Yet the Lodge vote was far in excess of the Curley vote It is a safe bet that the candidacy of Thomas O'Brien running mate of Representative Lemke on the Coughlin ticket which made its appearance as a protest move in the [illegible] primary means third party trouble for the Democrats

The Curley regime is unpopular The voters of Massachusetts resent what they consider to have been high handed and arbitrary methods [illegible] Also one of Curley's henchmen has been [illegible] by lower court decree to return certain funds supposedly misused in the conduct of a city treasurer's office All this has produced a very unpleasant impression in Massachusetts and judging by the way electorates behave when they see state government waste and political spoilsmanship at its height there will be a protest vote of mammoth proportions

To put it another way the Curley regime is tied up so closely with President Roosevelt's administration that a general tendency is to vote anti Democratic as a matter of course Mr Roosevelt in other words has a big liability in the Curley regime but he cannot ditch his political ally who alone made the fight for him in the 1932 primaries when Al Smith and his friends carried it against Roosevelt

The President has sent his son James here to help manage the campaign and look out for his interests He used to live here and knows the political situation very intimately In fact he took an active part in the last campaign

The Republicans have an excellent organization one of the best they have ever had There is harmony in the ranks of the leaders and it looks at present writing as if young Lodge will be elected United States senator and that the entire Republican ticket will be swept into office next November for the first time in many years

National issues are important here but this is a case where the state issues seem to predominate and will influence the voting against the Democratic ticket

Gov Landon has considerable strength of his own here as was manifest in his remarkable showing in the pre convention primaries but it is not detracting from his prestige in the slightest to say that he will win Massachusetts electoral vote very largely because of the anti new deal and anti Curley feeling of a large number of independent as well as Democratic voters

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON Sept 22 — Certain administration agencies are growling in an undertone about not being able to get enough money in the budget for next year which is now being prepared One independent commission has had its estimates thrown back twice now for reductions Another has been told to cut its estimate 10 per cent

In fact all departmental budget officers except those of the army and navy are complaining although not officially of course because they dare not speak their minds (The army and navy are going to be allowed further increases over this year's record allowance of $920 000 000)

This inner bickering is a natural part of budget making but what makes it appear important this year is that the complainants have been stilled by inside word that President Roosevelt has issued general cutting orders to his budget maker Dan Bell

Prospects

Lamentations among the spenders seem to be too sincere to justify suspicion that they are putting on an act for campaign purposes At the same time they know as well as any one that such a situation is campaign ice under Mr Roosevelt's sled and that their grief may be premature A skeptical non partisan outlook on the prospects must note these following factors up front in the fiscal foreground

1—The size of the budget will be determined largely by relief needs and appropriations No one now can have the slightest idea what these will be for the next budget year which begins next July 1 The assumption is general that the need will be less but nobody knows how much

2—The cuts now being made in confidential negotiations affect only the regular departmental expenses which amounted to only about 8 per cent of this year's total expenditures excluding the army and navy Thus they cannot be considerable and may not show a net reduction when balanced with the increases for national defense

Significant in this respect was the announcement last week by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau that no news about the budget will be given out officially before election

Understanding

Incidents in Spain seem to have created a vague but general impression that the Fascists have some deep-rooted grudge against Americans The bombing of the Kane the reported mistreatment of American newsmen by the rebels etc appear on the surface to reflect some general unexplained condition

The answer is they do not Subsurface facts point to the opposite deductions

When the Fascists entered a large city in the south they picked out the American consul to notify him first to get foreigners out No other foreign consul was thus singled out Similarly the insurgent responses regarding the Kane incident were accepted by officials here as being unusually frank and friendly The same spirit has been mutually expressed in various routine cooperative efforts between our diplomats and the Fascists Sympathies here are still largely with them

Perplexities

Nearly everyone in political life has declared himself on the presidential contest except two United States senators from the same state They are the Honorables Nye and Frazier who are more or less Republicans from North Dakota

The two are reported to be in a quandary 10 feet deeper than the one in which Robert Benchley spent ten years They cannot make up their minds what with the money they got from Mr Roosevelt for the drouth their friendship for Lemke (Frazier was co author of the Frazier Lemke inflation bill) and the fact that Landon is the nominee of their party

Both have announced themselves for the Republican candidate for governor but have uttered nary a sound about the more important matter

Those who have encountered Frazier in deep thought here lately have an idea he may resolve himself in favor of his friendship for Lemke Nye who is not as close to Lemke is reported to be in favor only of continuing indefinitely the munitions lecture tour upon which he has been embarked since the closing of congress

Pioneering

One of the original champions of the Matanuska resettlement experiment in Alaska has returned from a visit with a somewhat less enthusiastic slant on the way it is worked out The original plan was to give each settler 40 acres with cattle horses etc at a cost of $3 000 The $3 000 has been used up and each settler has but 10 acres It will cost about $10 000 per settler to go through with the original program

O O McIntyre's Diary of Fact, Fancy and Folks

NEW YORK Sept 22—The unpredictable Gene Fowler never fails to have his gorgeous twirl at Fire Island There in a primitive shack he spends weeks of solitude Away from people telephone typewriter Only his wife and children are with them He is utterly paternal Takes whole days to arrange games for them

Upon arriving at Fire Island he dons shorts and so habited Robinson Crusoes his niche of the island It may be that in this cloister he thinks up many pranks and those privately circulated and puckish poems that crack the blasphemies of his adopted Hollywood

Fowler an innocent eyed worldling is spangled with more legends than any journalist of his time Like so many other crack writers he had his editorial genesis in Denver The Denver of Ford Frick and Damon Runyon More than most scribes Fowler changes his pace

One year he may author a novel or biography The next punch the lock in a cinema studio and next occupy an executive chair in a news room Whatever his job he performs it with gusto and manages to leave along the trail salty reminiscences for the yarn spinners

Irvin Cobb who treked to Hollywood by way of experiment seems definitely lost to the New York to which he came so wide-eyed out of Paducah to win fame as an author humorist and after-dinner speaker His cooperative apartment and home at East hampton are on the market His dip into the movies netted him a long time contract and his daughter Buff has also moved to the west coast to perform scenario chores Mrs Cobb's improved health in the California sunshine is also a contributing factor in the permanent choice

We were discussing The Cautious Souls in Harry Burton's oriental rugged dugout Faith Baldwin told of the ship steward who would cough outside the cabin door announce I'm getting ready to knock and then gently rat a tat Dick Berlin's choice was the Bobby near London parliament houses who was asked just how much the bell in Big Ben weighed He answered an estimate in tons but added Mind I shouldn't care to be quoted Then the Bobby that Frazier Hunt asked about a good breakfast place who shook his head and said he was not allowed to recommend

The London attitude is to Americans always a bit screwy Russ Cole the cartoonist was once buying a hat in Piccadilly and was down to a choice between two grays and with one on his head and the other in his hand turned from the glass to the salesman for an opinion He intoned If you ask me I'd take the other hat that one you look over hatted Mind though I shan't be wearing either of them myself

And there was that time at the horse-shoe entrance to the Savoy that George Ade as I recall whacked a fellow on the back with a wham and Bill you old son of a gun what are you doing over here? The poundee coughing and replacing his bridge work turned around and disclosed he was not the friend at all but a strange Englishman Ade craved pardon adding he had simply mistaken him for a friend It's quite all right said the Englishman but does your friend care for that sort of thing

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Glasses

[illegible] of people [illegible] wear glasses. How [illegible] is a great [illegible].

We have [illegible] to associate glasses with age [illegible] nothing could be more absurd than such a conclusion. As a matter of fact there are a dozen persons under 25 to one past 40 requiring the constant use of glasses for distant vision. It may be a mark of age for one to need glasses to find the number in a telephone book. But it is not a mark of age for one to need glasses for distant vision.

When I observe the outlandish hats and suits that the human family wears because it is the style I can not understand why anybody should object to the wearing of a properly adjusted nose-glass or pair of spectacles. But I do gaze upon the photographs of famous men and look at the persons I meet every day and wonder where they ever got such ridiculous looking glasses as they wear.

But it isn't necessary to have glasses of this type. The modern opticians and manufacturers of optical goods are all the time devising frames and lenses that actually add to the look of distinction and the real beauty of those who wear them. I have seen a face that would be materially improved in appearance and attractiveness if suitable glasses were provided.

It is absurd indeed for one to reject the benefits of modern science just because of a silly dread of wearing glasses. I am out of patience with this feeling.

I have gone out of my way to say these things because I know that the foolishness of pride has deprived many and many a person particularly members of the fair sex from the benefits and indeed the necessities of correcting lenses. Many a human being is suffering discomfort if not agony because of uncorrected eye strain.

It is not alone the immediate discomfort either that is important.

Constant strain of the eyes will bring serious eye trouble and even bad general health.

I am told by friends of attacks of dizziness they suffer of indigestion and inability to work steadily. To these I always suggest the possibility of eye strain and the need of glasses.

It is not alone poor sight that indicates eye strain. One may see well enough but have good vision at the expense of the muscles and nerves of these delicate organs.

Be sensible about it and have the eyes tested.

Three Harding Football Players Benched by Injurie

TWO SUFFER BONE INJURIES, MAY BE OUT FOR REST OF SEASON

Chizmar, Hoch and Caprino Hurt; Scott Drops Out, Weakening Squad.

Old Man Injury stalked into the Harding High grid camp on the eve of final preparation for the opening home game with Mt Gilead next Saturday. As a result three members of the varsity line up will be inactive during the remainder of the week and it may be necessary for two of them to remain on the sidelines throughout the season. Another first string player was lost by a withdrawal from school.

Julius Chizmar, senior and Coach Carl Cramer's choice for starting fullback against Delaware last Saturday, suffered a fractured collar bone in the scrimmage session last night. Chizmar was lugging the ball and came up from beneath a pile of his interference with an injury which may prevent his rejoining the team during its present schedule, Coach Cramer said.

The prospective guards were re

WINGBACKS

A PRIMER OF THE WARNER SYSTEM

by TINY THORNHILL

Here's what Coach Tiny Thornhill of Stanford means by expert blocking being essential to success in any football system ... that's Tiny himself with the ball. He played for Pop Warner at Pittsburgh.

(This is the [illegible] of a series of 12 daily [illegible] by the [illegible] with [illegible] as [illegible] its writer)

FREQUENT criticism is heard that the double wingback style of offense does not click at some time or another when it is most vitally necessary.

Actually this criticism should apply to any and all so-called systems or types of play. In theory any of the standardized or popular methods of advancing the ball are fool proof. If every player handles his assignment perfectly there is no apparent reason why the ball should not advance.

To theorize on the blackboard is one thing but the execution of the play on the field is something else again.

One of the reasons why the double wingback offense does not click at times is the failure to get the interference out.

It is almost necessary to have played this style of football to really make it function from a coaching standpoint. There are exceptions to the rule, of course, but such cases have been few and far between.

There are certain steps used by the linemen and backfield men which make it click. Necessarily any one who through actual play has learned the fundamentals of the style of play popularized by Glenn Scobey Warner should in most cases be better fitted to teach it than those who have acquired their knowledge through coaching schools or by observation.

Any system or type of play is good so long as you win games.

Six Western Conference Teams To Have Grid Games Saturday

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO Sept 22—Six Western Conference football squads hit the "home stretch" of their pre-season training grinds today—facing games Saturday which may be the tip-off on how they'll fare on football's wheel of fortune this fall.

Probably the most concerned Big Ten mentor is Bernie Bierman of Minnesota. The Gophers, choices with Ohio State to again dominate the conference setup, left for Seattle today for a hard opener against the powerful Washington Huskies.

The Gophers, unbeaten since 1932, have demonstrated plenty of power since training began despite the loss of seven stars of 1935. The Huskies however, are rated highly on the coast and are given a chance by many critics of stopping the Northmen.

Illinois entertains the demons of De Paul and Coach Bob Zuppke is expected to put numerous sophomores to the test to determine their potentialities for conference competition.

At Wisconsin Coach Harry Stuhldreher with hardly any better material than was on hand at the start of the 1935 drive, will seek a victory Saturday over South Dakota state which whipped the Badgers 13 to 6 last season.

Lawrence College opens Chicago's season on the Midway field and Maroon fans will be anxious to see how Coach Clark Shaughnessy has managed without Jay Berwanger. In Berwanger's old halfback spot will be Omar Fareed who has looked impressive in recent workouts.

Iowa, with Ozzie Simmons again the mainspring of the attack, will take on Carleton College. Coach Ossie Solem has been bearing down on his Hawkeyes in secret practice. At Purdue the boilermakers, hard hit by the deaths of two regulars in the shower room explosion, take on Ohio university.

Northwestern's Wildcats open a week from Saturday against Iowa and Coach Lynn Waldorf, famous for his November teams, was hopeful of having his club at a peak for the Iowa eleven. Indiana has two weeks to prepare for Centre college and Michigan the same length of time to get ready for a tough foe—Michigan State. Ohio State's opener Oct 3 is against New York University.

At South Bend Coach Elmer Layden prepared to drive his Notre Dame eleven, dubious of the success his club will have Oct 3 against Carnegie Tech.

WESLEYAN PREPARES FOR GRID GAME AT PITT NEXT SATURDAY

Other Ohio Teams Polish Off Last Rough Spots in This Week's Drill

By The Associated Press

Work and more work was ahead of Ohio college gridiron warriors today as coaches continued to knock rough corners from lines being primed to take the field in scheduled play at the week end.

Ohio Wesleyan meets Pittsburgh in the Smoky City Saturday. Ohio State's coach Francis Schmidt will be there to scout the Pennsylvanians who play in Columbus Oct 10. The Delaware Bishops, who sing to relax just before games, will be ready, Coach George Gauthier said.

Elsewhere on the Ohio front the situation was something like this:

Oxford—Coach Frank Wilton of Miami U looked ahead with his lightest team in five years averaging 178 pounds in the backfield and 181 on the line. Jack Llewellyn of Lakewood, quarter, was back in uniform 15 pounds underweight but otherwise in fair shape following a sunstroke last week.

Cincinnati—The Buckeye conference Bearcats likewise presented the lightest team in years averaging a scant 183 pounds including Seibert and Feldhaus, tackles weighing 204 and 205 pounds respectively. The Cincinnatians prepared for West Virginia U Saturday.

Ravenna—Hiram college's Terriers facing Mount Union Friday worked hard at scrimmage with T Boyer of Portland and W Hupp of Akron, freshmen, likely starters.

Westerville—Coach Ewing announced transfer of Scheiring, 190-pound tackle, to fullback as Otterbein's squad of 30 romped through practice by way of preparing for Muskingum.

Cleveland—Baldwin Wallace college gridders touted as more powerful than the 1935 eleven were hard at work pending Saturday's game with Central State Teachers college of Mt Pleasant, Mich. Not far away Coach Bill Edwards brushed up his Western Reserve team fresh from a 50-0 victory over Findlay college Saturday.

Oberlin—Lysle Butler, mentor of Oberlin's footballers, shifted Harrison from halfback to end and claimed it partially solved his most pressing problem, the wing positions in an otherwise veteran line.

Gambier—Kenyon college prospects are bright this year, Coach Lambert said as he sent his veteran lineup through drill. Lambert did not lose a man through graduation and the current season's freshman squad of 40 is largest in the school's history.

LeRoy M'Guirk Defeats Toots Estes in Mat Tilt

LeRoy McGuirk, Tulsa's light heavyweight claimant to the N B A crown, yesterday retained his belt emblematic of the championship when he defended the trophy against Toots Estes, Ark City, Okla contender, last night at the Shovel gymnasium.

After losing the first fall in 10 minutes and 30 seconds McGuirk came back to capture the lead by taking two straight falls. The Oklahoman failed however in gaining the plaudits of Marion fans who attended the match.

McGuirk and Estes worked hard and fast from the opening bell until the final fall was called by Referee Red Moon of Detroit, Mich. Both proteges of Ed Gallagher, widely known as mentor of Oklahoma A & M, the combatants matched each other in skill and wrestling technique.

During the first round the wrestlers engaged in fast exchanges of head, arm and leg holds with Estes leading the way most of the time. As the initial fall neared its completion Estes was applying a wrist lock and bed spill. McGuirk countered with a rolling leg spread. Estes had a good opportunity to apply the death block and the Oklahoman returned with an attempt for a crab hold before Estes freed himself and scored the fall with a body press.

It was a rolling wrist lock which spelled defeat for Estes in the two succeeding falls. The first came at the end of 15 minutes of tangling during which time Estes was seemingly in the lead. Estes after spilling out of an arm stretch applied a head scissors and pile driver at the start of the second round. He later applied a double death lock—one foot putting on the conventional Indian death lock and the other a reverse death lock. McGuirk came out of the tough spot to apply the rolling wrist lock and completed the fall with a head scissors.

Estes left an opening for the same hold at the start of the final round and McGuirk took the deciding round. Estes attempted an airplane spin to free himself from the hold but McGuirk continued the roll and scissors to pin his opponent's shoulders and win the match.

Speed LaRance took the measure of Speedy Shaffer in the second main bout of what was over a one-hour time limit. Shaffer, who hails from East St. Louis, Mo, became engaged in a verbal duel with Referee Moon but failed to impress the Detroit official with his abusive language. LaRance after dropping the first round in 19 minutes as the result of Shaffer's tough body scissors and press returned to take the two succeeding rounds. LaRance utilized a flying neck scissors to spill his opponent and get the second fall in 10 minutes. After taking no little amount of gouging and roughing at Shaffer's hands LaRance returned to the flying scissors to gain the deciding fall at the end of eight minutes.

Emil Firpo of South America and Jack Domar of Toledo mixed plenty of tough holds in the 20-minute preliminary which opened the program. Domar's chin jolts and body falls proved his margin of victory. He pinned Firpo's shoulders in nine minutes.

2 FROM MARION CO. ON ADA GRID SQUAD

William "Pete" Howison of Marion and Leon Parish of LaRue were among the 40 candidates who answered Coach Harris A. Lamb's recent call for initial grid practice at Ohio Northern university according to a news release from the university. Howison, a sophomore, is a halfback prospect while Parish, a senior, is a candidate for a guard position.

New plays, new shifts, new combinations stressing deception, speed and smoothness marked last week's activities in the Polar Bear grid camp as Coach Lamb prepared his charges for the opening game of the season at Findlay Friday night.

NASHVILLE Tenn Sept 22—The Banner said today Larry MacPhail, resigned general manager of the Cincinnati Baseball club of the National league, plans to purchase the St Louis Browns of the American league within a month.

The paper said Fay Murray, owner of the Nashville club, had been approached by MacPhail as a possible participant but Murray said he was not interested.

The Banner said present owners of the St. Louis club are said to have agreed to the sale and MacPhail has interested moneyed friends in the deal.

GIANTS ABOUT READY TO TAKE POSSESSION OF LEAGUE PENNANT

Need but Two More Victories To Nail Flag to Mast

By The Associated Press

While the National league took the pennant out of the mothballs and prepared to present it to the Giants possibly before nightfall, the main interest in the dying campaign centered today on the second-place fight.

The Giants need but two victories to nail the flag to their mast. Victory in both ends of today's double header in Philadelphia will do the trick. So will a split if the Cards, who regained second place yesterday by beating the Cubs 5-4, drop their start against the Reds.

But while the Giants have been taking their rapid drive to the pennant the Pirates' revival has been lost in the scramble. The fact that they're only two games out of third place and 2½ away from second hasn't received any more notice than the news of the dog biting the man.

With both the Cards and Cubs showing definite signs of falling apart completely the Bucs may yet step in to take the second place cut of the World's series melon.

The victory of the Gas House gang over the ex-champs from Chicago yesterday in their up-again scramble profited neither of the contending parties so much as it did the Giants and Pirates. When the Cards scored the winning run in the ninth it maintained the six game lead of the Giants who were idle and boosted the Bucs, who also had a day off, another half game toward third place.

The Cub-Card clash was one of the two games on the major league front yesterday. Three were scheduled but the Giants-Phils series opener was rained out.

In the only other game played the Dodgers, shaking the doldrums through which they lost three straight to the Giants, battered the Boston Bees 7-1 behi Frankhouse's six hit pitch Winsett, Dodger rookie f American association le hit attack with a pair o driving in two runs.

MY LITTLE BOARDING-HOUSE-KEEPER THIS EVENING, SARAH? YOU LOOK WORRIED!
YES—I AM—A LITTLE—
WHEN MR. HOUSTON WAS OUT FOR A WALK THIS AFTERNOON—I WENT UPSTAIRS AND OUR NEW BOARDER WAS IN MR. HOUSTON'S ROOM! THEY HARDLY SPEAK TO EACH OTHER—AND I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT!
I'LL SPEAK TO MR. WINSTON RIGHT AWAY!
YOU'RE RIGHT MR. STEBBINS—BUT I JUST COULDN'T HELP IT—
—WHEN I PASSED BY HIS DOOR WAS OPEN AND I SAW THE SUN SETTING OVER THE HILLS AND LAKE—AND I JUST COULDN'T HELP GOING INTO HIS ROOM TO ADMIRE IT FROM HIS WINDOW!

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

WANT TO LOOK TRIM, SLENDER, CHIC? THIS FROCK MAKES YOU ALL THREE!

Seeking a Fall wardrobe "bracer" that has charm, chic and slenderness? Then here's your frock, Pattern 4182, for its charm and chic are evident, and its slenderness lies in its knowing everything about your figure but disclosing only the best. If your weight lies above the waist, that frilly jabot's an especially good concealer and flatterer, while vertical skirt seams do more than anything to give the illusion of flatness in back and height in front. Perfect for home hostessing, calling, dinner "out", and many another social engagement. You can make it yourself in a very short time as illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions are included.

Pattern 4182 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4¼ yards 39-inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number.

BE SURE TO STATE SIZE

Just out! Our new Anne Adams Pattern Book, presenting the smartest in Fall fashions, the latest in frocks, fabrics and gift suggestions. You'll find glamorous gowns for after-dusk, alluring daytime models, cheery housedresses and kiddies' clothes. Styles, too, for the "would be slender" woman, and the girl-away-at-school. Send for it today! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

STOCKS STAGE ANOTHER RALLY

Rail Bonds Active Staples and Foreign Money Mixed, French Franc Drops

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Sept 22—W[illegible] economic [illegible] buyers the stock market today [illegible] moderately [illegible]

Rails again were in demand in the bond list. Commodities and foreign currencies were mixed. French francs dropped sharply and grains weakened in sympathy.

Conspicuous advances were registered by Chrysler Auburn Woolworth Douglas Aircraft Hiram Walker Phillips Petroleum Consolidated Edison International Paper & Power Preferred [illegible] Sterling Westinghouse Zenith Radio Johns-Manville Certain-teed Electric Auto-Lite Pullman Westinghouse Air Brake American Locomotive and Mathieson Alkali.

Notwithstanding the recent market indecision brokers were still insistent important stock holdings have not been disturbed.

Offerings they said came principally from quick turn traders.

Politics while inspiring more discussion in the board rooms apparently still was a neutral influence on price trends.

Steel stockholders scanned the favorable production figures of the mills with thoughts of growing earnings and more generous dividends.

The French franc was 00 1 16 of a cent improved a 0.58 15 cents on the beginning of foreign exchange transactions and sterling was up ¼ of a cent at $5.06

duced by one as the result of Gene Hoch's injury last week. Hurt during a scrimmage session Hoch had been attending school [illegible] X-ray taken Saturday revealed a slight fracture of the hip. Hoch a junior looked good to land a regular berth on the Presidents team but the mishap will probably keep him idle during the completion of the season.

Chuck Caprino senior backfield man who was active in the R[illegible] and Black gridders invaded Delaware last week took a bump on the foot during yesterday's practice meeting which has since prevented him from walking comfortably. It was first thought that a toe might have been broken. Caprino went into last Saturday's game with a cut on his hand which had required several stitches to close and was still unhealed. How long the latest setback will keep his services from the team is not definitely known.

William Scott Harding's first fooled colored lad who has been seeing the right half position [illegible] yesterday eliminating his services in the backfield.

[illegible] of the losses is difficult to measure. Chizmar fans who attended the Harding Delaware conflict will recall Fairweather the opposition with his shifty and deceptive movements. He carried the ball for a series of substantial gains and on one occasion reeled a literally [illegible] Fleck and scurried along the sidelines for a 30 yard jaunt.

Hoch's injury cuts the number of guard candidates to five Mah[illegible] [illegible] and Harold Stafford seniors and three others all juniors Jack [illegible] Roy Strut[illegible] and Francis Rizzo. Caprino is expected to be back in scrimmage sessions later this week and may be considered in condition to start the game here Saturday.

Marion's first home game of the 1936 program is set for next Saturday when the Pluck and Rel[illegible] aggregation entertains Mt Gilead High school at the Harding field. The game has definitely been announced for Saturday afternoon although there were tentative plans to hold it Friday night under the floodlights now being installed.

Both Mt Gilead and Harding have lost heavily by graduation. Two veteran members of both teams returned for service at the first practice call when the season began. Mt Gilead's biggest loss was perhaps in the backfield ace Bob Payne. Payne was one of the principal cogs in the Morrow county eleven which won the Mid State loop championship last fall. He was considered one of the fleetest backfield men in the history of the school. Payne following his graduation last spring announced his intention of enrolling at Ohio State university.
